Are Medical Properties a Safe Investment?

While many property sectors saw dramatic sales declines in 2020, especially the retail and lodging sectors, there was one bright sector that saw very little change; the Medical Office Properties. Many landlords reported very few lease defaults and tenants stayed current on rents at surprisingly high levels. That has created increased interest from investors and developers looking for more properties. We at TRI Commercial specialize in the leasing, sales and development of medical properties and would be glad to sharing our expansive knowledge in this sector. Please feel free to contact us for a consultation."
